I do not own Sailor Galaxia; she belongs to Naoko Takeuchi, but I do own her civilian form along with her new Powers. I also do not own Hyrule; it belongs to the Nintendo Game: Zelda, I am only using Hyrule for a Planet Name.

>Introduction

Hyrule; a single planet with one moon orbiting a single Sun, it is similar to Earth but different. Hyrule is a planet that is ruled by the Gods; Magic also thrives on Hyrule along with creatures and beings that live and roam this beautiful planet.

Each different pantheon of Gods live and rule a continent; They all stay within Their continental territorial domains and They do not interfere with each other unless They have to or it was necessary, sometimes They do travel out of curiosity and meet each other. Each God and Goddess has Their own Powers and They specialize in war, love, fertility, etc.

The Gods respect each other but occasionally there are arguments and fights, and the mortals are used as weapons/pawns in these fights and arguments. The creatures and beasts of Power who live in hiding or under protection of the Gods; these creatures and beasts would let a mortal see them by choice or luck.

The beings who live and/or serve the Gods are fawns, satyrs, nymphs, dryads, etc. There are demons who serve the Gods and Goddesses of Death and the Underworld; there are also Demon Lords who rule their own land territories under the Gods and they try not to "get on the wrong side" of Them.

The mortals of Hyrule are like the people of Earth; they are human and of different races, they worship their own pantheon of Gods in different ways. They travel, explore and trade with each other; wars are fought, deaths follow and new life are born.

Human laws are made or changed and everyone follows the natural laws of the Gods. The people of Hyrule are still growing and learning as they are carefully watched over by the Gods.

Everyone speaks different languages that are similar to the languages of Earth but they also share a common tongue. Except for one race of people who's Gods are slightly older and different from the other Godsâ€¦

But that is a different story for another time!

**0****

There is a nation of warrior woman who live independently separate from men; they are known as the Amazons and their nation is very different from all other nations. They live on a large island called Themyscira; they have thirteen main cities, twelve cities circling the island like spokes of a wheel with the thirteenth in the center.

The Amazons were also nomadic by nature with Amazon tribes scattered through various countries of Hyrule; each Amazon tribe had founded a small village that were settled and protected by these tribes. The Amazons are made of various matriarchal ruled families; the grandmothers are the heads of the families followed by the mothers, aunts and daughters.

The Amazons have taken lovers and they do not discriminate race or class; their lovers have been Greek, Roman, Egyptian, etc who also have been royal, noble, merchant, etc. The Amazon Nation is very diverse in blood, hair/eye and skin color; they consider themselves sisters-in-arms and are equals in everything.

The Amazons follow their own set of rules and traditions that had been set down by their very first Queen Amazonia whom they were named after as a nation. The Amazon women have also bore children; daughters are kept and raised by their mothers and tribes.

Sons are kept until they are weaned and have reached the age of seven seasons; before they are sent to be raised by their birth-fathers with the father's family or are fostered-adopted by another family. Some Amazons choose to leave their tribe and settle somewhere else; they find themselves falling in love, marrying and living with their husbands in a village or town or on a farm.

But they never forget that they are Amazon; they would train their sons and daughters their fighting ways or send their daughters to the Amazon tribes of their birth to be fostered and trained. It is not unheard of that an Amazon would choose to marry for love; it is their choice and the husbands who take Amazon wives know to show respect to their wives' wishes.

Most husbands who marry an Amazon find that having such a wife is an honor for if the husbands have to leave their land for war or something, they know that hearth and home is safe with their Amazon wife or their wife goes to battle with them. Not all Amazons are actually warriors; but they do know how to fight with or without weapons if necessary.

The Amazons are a mixture of warriors, healers, midwives, etc; they can trade with other nations or be hired as mercenaries and assassins for other food, cloth or other necessities that they may need. They will never turn anyone away who needs help or shelter; the Amazon Nation is respected, feared, tolerated or even despised by everyone else.

The Amazons worship various Goddesses and respect the male Gods too; they are guided by Priestesses who are the Oracles and Seers of the nation. The Amazon Nation is ruled by Thirteen High Queens and under them is the Warrior Queens; the High Queens embodies the Great Goddess and rule the major cities of Themyscira.

The Warrior Queens also embody the Goddess; they are strong warrior women who rule the nomadic tribes and each of these Queens are sworn vassals to the High Queens. Only strong warrior women can become a Warrior Queen by challenging and beating or killing the previous Queen in a tribal fight.

There is a young Amazon woman of sixteen autumns and her name is Pandora; she is a Princess of the Amazon Nation, seventh daughter of the Thirteenth Amazon High Queen known as the Elder Queen Boadicea. Pandora had long hair that is half gold blond from the top of her head to the middle of her back and the rest [including her bangs] were fiery red, and, her eyes were sterling blue.

Queen Boadicea was known to be a great High Queen who treated everyone as equals with respect. Pandora was her last and youngest daughter; there were six older half-sisters from six different fathers.

Amazon daughters are told who their birth-fathers are and they honor the men who had sired them; but Pandora and everyone else of her tribe did not know much about her birth-father. Pandora's birth-father was a traveler from another land and he carried himself as a ruler; it was said that he had a divine presence about him that was curious to everyone.

It was the end of winter and the beginning of spring when this traveler arrived on Themyscira; Queen Boadicea was a beautiful woman of thirty-five summers and was considered to be well in her prime when she first met the mysterious traveler. Not many men were allowed on the island of the Amazon Nation; yet this traveler of another land was different and he was a gentle man.

A Seer predicted his coming as special and important but no one knew why; the man was very respectful of the Amazon laws and he was careful to not overstep his welcome. Since winter had ended and spring was beginning; it was time for the Great Marriage and the traveler was chosen to be the Hunter.

A lot was drawn for the Virgin Huntress and it was a surprise that Queen Boadicea's name was drawn for it would be her third, and last time she took up the honored post. The Elder Queen had met the mysterious traveler and saw how handsome he was as he explored the island and visited the cities; she felt like a maiden again and she was nervous to perform the Great Marriage, though she had lain with other men throughout her life and was careful with whom she slept with.

Yet this man was different and the Elder Queen felt like a virgin once more; she went through the ritual of being prepared and donned the half-moon mask over her eyes. Queen Boadicea fell into her role as the Virgin Huntress as she entered the cave bower and settled into the bed as she patiently waited for the Hunter.

A special stag known as the King Stag was bred and was given a herd of doe to breed with through out the year; the King Stag was a sacrifice that was to be killed by the Hunter as part of the ritual to the Great Marriage. The drums beat loudly as the Hunter entered cave where the Virgin Huntress waited; Queen Boadicea actually gasped when the man leapt into the chamber and his steps matched the beating of the drums.

He wore the antlered mask of the Hunter and garbed in the Hunter's tunic; once the Hunter stood next to the bed, both Amazon Queen and traveler were silent as they stared at each other. Queen Boadicea knew she was blushing slightly and she realized for this one night; they were not simply an Amazon Queen and traveler, they were simply man and woman.

The Elder Queen made the first move as she went on her knees on the bed and leaned slowly forward towards the traveler; Boadicea remembered every kiss that she had ever shared and yet this kiss was different. The traveler beneath the Hunter's mask gave a small gentle smile as he returned the kiss before joining the woman on the bed.

That night became very dear to the Thirteenth Amazon Queen as she slept in satisfaction with her lover and as dawn came; the traveler left the bed and removed the Hunter's mask. Queen Boadicea was still drowsy as she watched the traveler; he leaned over her and whispered in her ear: "In nine months on Samhain; you will give birth to a daughter!"

Then the man vanished leaving behind a circle of flowers; the Elder Queen sat up in shock as she laid a hand on her flat stomach as she realized that she was pregnant. She kept the knowledge that a foreign God had visited her; a secret as her belly grew with child and the Amazons prepared to celebrate the coming of a plentiful harvest.

Nine months and on the night of Samhain as a Blood Moon began to rise; Queen Boadicea gave birth to her seventh daughter. The Amazons celebrated for seventh daughters were considered lucky as the Elder Queen named her daughter Pandora, a Seer predicted that great things would happen in the child's life and it will bring her great fortunes.

There is another Amazon Princess of an Amazon Tribe; her name was Jade, she had long burnished red hair and burnish gold eyes. Jade was the daughter of the Warrior Queen Erica; Erica became a Warrior Queen by challenging and killing the previous Warrior Queen before her in a tribal combat.

Erica was a beautiful Amazon woman who was also strong and ambitious; once she became Warrior Queen she wanted to cement her claim, she wanted to bear a child as a sign that she would be the better choice as leader. But no man of wealth or power or even any male Gods suited her interest by the time she turned thirty in spring and was entering her prime.

Soon a mysterious traveler came; he was male but he wore flowing hooded robes and the hood hid his face in darkness. The man gave a feeling of fear and he held Powers that were dark; the Amazons of Erica's tribe would not go near him.

Yet Queen Erica found herself drawn to this mysterious hooded cloaked man that she found herself smitten and took him as her lover. The man stayed with the Warrior Queen for a night and left mysteriously in the morning; no one saw him leave but the Amazons noticed that their Queen was practically glowing.

Three months later; Erica learned that she was pregnant and she became very happy as her belly continued to grow. By winter and nine months later; the Warrior Queen gave birth to a daughter on the coldest night of the year and this daughter survived.

Erica named her daughter Jade and she knew that Jade would be far more ambitious than her; the Warrior Queen knew that her daughter was stronger and she silently sent a prayer of thanks to Jade's mysterious birth-father. A Seer of Erica's tribe had a dark vision of Jade; she predicted that dark things will happen to the Amazon Princess that will make her great but feared.

Pandora and Jade were raised as Princesses of the Amazon Nation; yet they were very different in personalities and the ways their mothers raised them. Queen Boadicea raised her seven daughters as her heirs; Pandora had a close bond with her six older half-sisters all of whom helped raise her.

Queen Erica raised her daughter to be ambitious and know how to use people in different ways. Jade never socialized with the other Amazon children; not unless she thought they could be of some use to her and many never realized that they were being used.

Soon the two Amazon Princesses turned seven; Pandora became a child of seven autumns and Jade became a child of seven winters. A Yearly Gathering took place on Themyscira; where daughters who reach their seven seasons are present to the Amazon Nation and inducted into the nation of sisterhood.

A member of a special Amazon order known as the Sisterhood of the Goddess Blade was also present. The Sisterhood is an order of Amazon women who are trained in both Magic and weaponry; they also are known to be the human Blades of the Goddesses.

The Sisterhood of the Goddess Blade was very special Amazon warriors who are chosen by the Goddesses to be their mortal weapons and earthly ambassadors. Members of the Sisterhood are chosen by a Goddess; some Goddesses have more than one Blade, while other Goddesses were picky about having only one Blade at a time.

The Goddesses chooses Their Blades through an Ordeal; but if a Goddess does not choose a Blade or rejects the woman, then the Amazon Sister would become an Amazon Magi. Amazon Magi are Goddess Blades who were not chosen by a Goddess; but was still considered to be apart of the Sisterhood, they are skilled in both Magic and weaponry but they serve as Warrior Priestesses within the temples, and they take strict vows of chastity and are bound to serve the Great Goddess and Gods as a holy army.

When Pandora, Jade and the rest of the girls who had reached their seven seasons were presented and inducted; the representative from the Sisterhood of the Goddess Blade tapped both Pandora and Jade on their shoulders. The woman said to all who were present: "These two Amazon Princesses hold Powers that are to be trained by the Sisterhood and if they fulfill their training; they will become Goddess Blades or Amazon Magi and bring honor to the Amazon Nation!"

There was a great celebration that followed after this; Pandora was excited to join such an order but she was also sad that she had to leave her family. Jade on the other hand was taken aside by her mother; Warrior Queen Erica looked her firstborn daughter in the eye and she said solemnly: "Listen well to what I have to say, Jade, you are meant for far greater things then being a mere Amazon or Goddess Blade; learn what you can from this order and once they have fulfilled their usefulness, leave them behind and search out ways to make yourself stronger!"

"What shall I do when I become stronger?" Jade asked her mother and Erica replied: "Make plans to conquer Hyrule and rule the world!"

The Sisterhood of the Goddess Blade lay in the Themysciran Mountains with natural hot springs and plateaus that are great for training. The monastery of the Sisterhood was carved from a mountain and it was a stronghold with many dormitories, armories and other areas for training as well as learning.

The teachers who trained the initiates were a careful mixture of Goddess Blades and Amazon Magi; the teaching methods vary among the teachers. There were teachers who were strict who would do anything to make a lesson stick [sometimes in painful ways] and other teachers who are far more patient, and take the time with each student.

Pandora and Jade started their training after their arrival; the first training they did was weapons training. Goddess Blades were able to carry more then one weapon on them that they can wield at a time; initiates of the Sisterhood were trained in the use of all weapons until they found the ones that suited them.

Pandora quickly learned that she was comfortable in wielding twin sai blades and a wooden staff that she could twist apart, and use as another weapon or simply to carry. Jade's preferred weapons of choice were daggers; she learned that she could use daggers in close quarter combat, use as throwing weapons and could hide daggers upon her body.

Next the two Amazon Princesses began to learn about Magic and how to wield it. There were six types of Magic known as White, Red, Blue, Yellow, Dark and Gray; these were also known as the Six Magic Paths and each Goddess Blade can wield these Powers, each Magic Path is different and unique; it is required that the Goddess Blades know how to wield them.

The White Magic is known as the Path of Light, Red Magic is the Path of Passion, Blue Magic is the Path of Change, Yellow Magic is the Path of Divine Power, Dark Magic is the Path of Darkness and Gray Magic is the Path of Balance. Each Path is different and unique; the Magic Paths can be paired in neutral ways that a Goddess Blade can wield safely.

The White Magic, the Path of Light, is Magic based on the Light and the virtues; the Red Magic, the Path of Passion, is Magic based on various passions, the most common use of Red Magic is sex. Blue Magic, the Path of Change, is Magic based on changing things around a person or bending space, etc; Yellow Magic, the Path of Divine Power, is Magic based on Nature for everything even Life is Divine.

Dark Magic, the Path of Darkness, is Magic based on Darkness and drawing on the negative energies, and the sins of everything; while Gray Magic, the Path of Balance, is magic that is neutral and it draws on Light and Darkness in equableness. Pandora and Jade along with other initiates were warned to use Magic as a last resort for it can drain life energy if used constantly; they were also trained to perform certain rituals that are important and they learned about Calling upon their patron Goddess to become Her Blade.

Just as Magic was to be used as a last resort; so too is Calling upon the Goddesses were also last resorts. Pandora took these warnings to heart as she trained and she surpassed her fellow initiates throughout training that she was considered a prodigy.

Jade was also another prodigy who surpassed in her training; but she did not care for the warnings and she was very interested in the Dark Magic. Jade never cared for the Rituals though she learned them with little care for all she wanted to learn more about the Dark Arts and she scuffed at being balanced in everything.

Sixteen seasons passed; Pandora was now sixteen autumns and Jade was now sixteen winters, they trained hard and learned everything from the Sisterhood. The Sisterhood decided that the two Amazon Princesses should try to pass the Ordeal of the Blade to see if a Goddess would become their patron and they become true Goddess Blades; but if they did not pass the Ordeal, they would become Amazon Magi.

There were many Goddess Blade initiates who did not pass the Ordeal of the Blade and they became Amazon Magi; most of them considered it a blessing in disguise, but others thought it was a disgrace but they had to accept it. Pandora and Jade were considered to be the youngest initiates to go through such a trial, and many initiates of sixteen seasons were slightly jealous of them.

A lot was drawn to decide which of the two girls would go first; Pandora won the caste of the dice and was to go through the Ordeal first, while Jade would go through the trial three days after her. She went through the Ritual Bath of Purification; she had to bath in the hot springs of the Themysciran Mountains where the Order laid, and was then clothed in robes of white; flowing pants and long jacket tied by a white belt.

Then Pandora was blindfolded and led to the place where the Ordeal was to be held; the location of where the Ordeal of the Blade was performed was a well kept and guarded secret. When the blindfold was removed; Pandora found herself in a chamber-like mountain cave decorated with beautiful carvings of various Goddesses from the various pantheons of Hyrule.

At one end of the room was a great stone door that blended into the wall and one could not tell if it was a door until a closer look was made. There were two parts to the Ordeal of the Blade; the first part is mental and the second part is physical, both were different in many ways.

The High Priestess of the Sisterhood began to invocation as she chanted: "We call upon thee, o Goddesses of Hyrule, you who rule thy people within the shadows of the male Gods; we invoke and invite you to witness this Ordeal. Pandora, Seventh Daughter of Elder Queen Boadicea, is taking the Ordeal of the Blade; watch over her, test her and if she pleases any of you claim her as Your Blade!"

The first part of the Ordeal that Pandora was to take was the mental trial; a special drink was made and luckily Pandora was instructed to fast as she took the cup that was given to her. The potion was sickly sweet to smell and the taste after she drank was not only bitter but very tart, Pandora did not have time to ask any question as she suddenly fell unconscious and crumbled to floor.

Pandora became aware that she was in a dark place and she also knew that she wasn't dead, and yet she could not make a sound. Before her appeared six different colored paths; white, red, blue, yellow, dark and gray.

Pandora remembered another of her lessons in Magic that was also history; Goddess Blades do not simply choose a single Magic Path to follow for it would lead to pure madness, a Goddess Blade is chosen by two Paths that she must walk and keep balance. Pandora was to learn which Path would suite her or lead to madness; she began her first part of the Ordeal.

Pandora went down each Magic Path; she went down a White and Yellow Paths, but saw herself falling to madness of pride where she was feared. Red and Blue Paths led her to another madness of where she used pleasure to change things around; Pandora even went down a White and Dark Paths, but she became mad with power over Light and Dark.

After going down a Gray and Blue Paths that showed her making everyone equal but brainwashed; Pandora became afraid that none of the Six Paths suited her at all. Suddenly before her eyes; the Paths began to weave together and created two new paths.

One Path was woven of White, Red and Blue; the other Path was woven of Yellow, Dark and Gray. Pandora became confused at this but she walked the woven Paths and soon found herself tuned to everything, and Pandora suddenly realized that she was walking all Six Paths at once and yet it felt right.

"Everyone; move back and let her breathe," Pandora heard the voice of the High Priestess say as she came out of her trance. Pandora carefully sat up and blinked owlshly but she remembered what had happened during the first part of the Ordeal.

"You have walked the Six Paths; you have seen what Paths would suite you and what Paths would lead you to madness," intoned the High Priestess solemnly.

Pandora was kneeling before the woman as she gave the ritual response: "I have walked the Six Paths; I have seen myself falling to madness as I walked each in turn, I watched the Paths weave themselves into two new Paths and I learn that I am meant to walk all Six Paths!"

When Pandora has revealed this; it was a shock to all the Goddess Blades who were present and one of them said: "Pandora is the very first of us to be chosen to follow all Six Paths!"

Pandora rested for a moment as well as given a Spartan meal to eat and took the time to meditate; the second part of the Ordeal was that she must navigate through the Ordeal Labyrinth; she must face many physical challenges and solve various puzzles in order to reach the center. She knew that the final part of the Ordeal was to see if a Goddess would appear and give her one final challenge; if she pleases the Goddess after completing the challenge, she would become a Blade of Hers.

Suddenly the stone door in the wall slowly opened and Pandora received many kisses from the Goddess Blades in luck before she walked through, and the door silently closed without a sound.

The Ordeal Labyrinth lay deep in the mountain; it was a labyrinth of tunnels and caves that were connected, and there were dead-ends along with secret passageways that could be found if the puzzles were solved or physical challenges passed. Pandora carefully navigated her way through as she used her wits and took her time that she soon reached the center.

Now Pandora knelt in the center of the Labyrinth which was a chamber-like arena; she did not care if a Goddess may not choose her and yet she also hoped that she might have interested at least one, so she continued to kneel in the vast chamber that was the Labyrinth center and waited. It was not long until Pandora felt the sudden wind and the Power that announced a God's arrival; she did not know if she should turn around or not.

"Well you are a curious initiate and potential Goddess Blade; my fellow Goddesses and I were shocked to learn that you were chosen to walk down all Six Magic Paths. Wellâ€|are you going to be rude and continue to ignore me or are you going to turn around and face me?" Pandora heard a woman say behind her and she detected a hint of amusement in Her voice.

Pandora slowly and carefully stood up, stumbled a bit because she had been kneeling for quiet a while, and turned to see Nemesis; Goddess of Order, Balance and Vengeance. Nemesis was beautiful and the two were practically the same height [Pandora was 6'0" and She was about 6'1"]; She had long dark reddish auburn hair and deep gold eyes, and Power radiated from Her.

Just as Pandora was gazing at the Goddess; she noticed that She was looking her over and whatever She saw pleased Her, because She smiled a smile that also showed in Her eyes. Pandora must have had a confused look on her face because the Lady gave a small chuckle and She said: "If you meet my expectations; I will take you as my Blade, I have not had a Goddess Blade for about a century and it is time I had a true Blade!"

Pandora felt a slight shock go through but she managed to asked: "What is my final test, Vengeance Goddess?"

"Fight meâ€|if you can survive more then a minute in fighting me; I will accept you," Nemesis surprisingly told the Amazon Princess.

Pandora agreed and she found herself with a wooden staff; soon the Goddess Nemesis and Pandora were fighting. Pandora got a couple of blows in on Nemesis but she got a lot more blows from Her; Pandora found herself battered, bruise and she think even got a cracked rib or two.

But the fight lasted for a minute as the Lady had promised and Pandora survived; she felt Nemesis being proud of her and She even healed the girl.

"You did well, Amazon Princess, I gladly take you as my Goddess Blade;" Nemesis said to her as She slapped Pandora's right shoulder.

Her Mark; the Scales appeared or better yet Pandora felt the Scales of Nemesis appear, it was a slight tingling and burning sensation that soon stopped. In honor of her patron Goddess; she added Her name to hers and she became known as Pandora Nemesis.

**1**

Three days after Pandora passed the Ordeal of the Blade; it became Jade's turn to go through the Ordeal. During the three days; Jade had contemplated that serving Goddesses as Their human Blades was laughable; she saw the Goddesses are nothing more but embodiments of Power.

Jade went through the Ritual Path of Purification and was clothed in white; she was blindfolded and led to the place of the Ordeal. She resisted the urge to roll her eyes during the invocations and she readily gulped the potion down that put her into a trance, she found herself in the dark place with the Six Magic Paths laid before her.

Yet before her eyes; one by one five of the Paths faded away and the Dark Path remained, Jade followed it already knew what she was going to do. Upon returning to herself; Jade would not reveal what had happened to her as she was given her Spartan meal.

She finally went through the Ordeal Labyrinth; Jade remembers that if no one passes the Ordeal, they become Amazon Magi. Jade did not intend of becoming a Magi; she already knew what she will do upon leaving the Sisterhood.

No Goddess appeared to offer Jade a final trial; once Jade left the place of the Ordeal, she returned to her room in the monastery and packed up her possessions that she could carry and she prepared to leave the Sisterhood for good. When the other Goddess Blades learned that Jade was leaving; they went to try and persuade her to stay, but Jade would not listen.

"You have served your purpose and I have no need of you;" said Jade as she stood before the assembled Sisterhood. "Being a human Vessel and Blade to some Goddess is ridiculous; these Goddesses are nothing but embodiments of Power and there are other ways to find and take Power, from here on I am Jade Raven!"

Jade journeyed from the Amazon Nation of Themyscira; she wanted to learn more of the Dark Arts. She wanted to learn the darker, dangerous and forbidden forms of Dark Magic; Jade scoured every known library and archives of Hyrule, she went to different countries to find people who knew of the darker side of Dark Magic for she wanted to study under them.

These people who practiced the dangerous forbidden Dark Arts were marked as outcasts by the Gods; but Jade did not care because it was the Power she craved more. Jade learned that these people are known as Unholy Immortals for they have found ways of maintaining their youths, never aging and are always beautiful/handsome on the outside; while their souls are black twisted deforms within.

Jade learned that they were like incubuses and succubus's; they are always moving and never staying in one place for very long and they never stayed in the cities or towns, villages were exceptions because they were small and the places where they have practiced their unholy acts become tainted and forbidden to be used by everyone else. She learned that there were once many Unholy Immortals who roamed Hyrule but they ended up fighting and killing each other until there was only one Unholy Immortal left.

Jade learned that this last Unholy Immortal was living as a hermit in a cave of the Carpathia Mountains and she went to find him. When Jade finally found the man; she begged that he take her as his acolyte and teach her the ways of the Unholy Immortals, the man agreed.

Jade found that her Master was handsome but very old and he had begun to feel tired of his life as an Unholy Immortal; not only did he become Jade's teacher but he also became her first lover. Jade learned that the Unholy Immortal was sometimes an incubus or succubus; she learned to feed on a person's life force through intimacy and she learned Blood and Death Magic, this was the most dangerous forbidden form of Dark Magic that Jade has ever learned.

She learned to drain and drink blood, and, to drain the energy of a soul as the person dies; Jade also learned to drain the person of their youth to maintain her own youth and she soon grew stronger than her Master had her kill him as a final test and all his powers went to her. Jade was now the last Unholy Immortal and she returned to the Amazon Nation with it as her secret.

Once Jade returned home; she became very vain about her looks, Jade was a beauty and she was easily ending up becoming jealous of anyone being more beautiful than her. Jade uses her Powers as an Unholy Immortal to always get what she wanted and she was also a very good actress, and, she knew how to create a very good alibi to cover herself.

Jade would find any girl, mortal or immortal or demigod or half-breed, who is considered to be more beautiful than her to be her rival. She will first gain the maiden's trust and lure her away from safety to wherever she practices Blood and Death Magic.

She started to enjoy seeing the fear in the eyes of her rivals as Jade slowly drains the girl of blood, Jade also steal their youth and beauty, and, she drains the energy of their soul as they die before drinking their blood. For added strength to her Powers; Jade also ate the girls' hearts and livers before she would then dump the bodies anywhere and the next day the bodies are found; no one knows why, how or who has done it but everyone, mortal and immortal, were becoming scared.

Jade enjoy the fear that she was causing; it was a power that she enjoy having and Jade was also very good at covering herself during investigations. She started dreaming about becoming a Goddess where everyone both feared her for her Powers and loved her for her immortal beauty; Jade began to long to kill the Gods of Hyrule and drink Their Divine Blood.

But Jade knows that she must wait, bide her time and gather her Powers firstâ€¦|

Jade had even become notorious in seducing men; she stole beaus, fiances and husbands from her rivals because she found these men appealing. Jade would bed them once and leave them drained of energy as well as spoiled; the men were physically handsome and that made stealing them all the more sweetly, and she did not care who she hurt emotionally.

Jade has never once gotten pregnant for she was always careful; she took certain potions and used Magic to protect herself from conceiving, Jade even made powerful contraceptives and gave them to her rivals. The potion made the women barren and unable to have children; she used this to her advantage to not only steal their men but also to sympathize with them falsely.

But in truthâ€¦ Jade saw that children would get in her way and no child was allowed near her, though something told Jade other wise and she has kept the idea just in case.

Over the years; Pandora Nemesis became a bit famous as the Goddess Blade of Nemesis, but she never let fame go to her head. She has dealt and fought with humans, demons, demigods, etc; Pandora made many friends and respected enemies.

Soon many young men, mortal and immortal, have tried to court Pandora in hopes to become her lover or husband and father a child on her. But Pandora never showed interest in the men and she always turned them away; she learned that some have even thought that Pandora might prefer women but she was not interested in that relationship even though it is not uncommon [Pandora knew some friends involved and she kept in good terms with them].

Plus Pandora has never participated in the Beltane Rituals; if she was chosen to be the Virgin Huntress, she would cordially decline the offer and passed it to someone else. But Pandora has noticed the men who persistently try to catch her eye and she has shown interest in men [even curious about women]; she has even thought about having her own children someday.

Yet Pandora has a mysterious sense that tells her to wait and to remain chaste for she will one day find the one who will be her other half. And Pandora still listens to that mysterious senseâ€¦

**Chapter 4****

**1****

Soon Pandora turned eighteen and she began to have weird dreams of another life; these dreams were very frightening in a senseâ€¦

Pandora dreamed that she was a mad female warrior garbed in a gold pleated short mini-skirted cloth-like armor. In this dream; Pandora murdered other female warriors and took a glowing bright color star after the bodies had crumbled to fine dust, not only that but she also destroyed other worlds and was in command of others who were slightly like her.

But during a battle; Pandora was killed and that was when she would wake with a gasp. For seven nights this happened and feeling curious about this dream, Pandora went to one of the High Priestesses who were the Oracles.

Pandora had caught a fat young white rabbit before heading to the temple; she checked to make sure that the rabbit was healthy, its gender and made sure it was not carrying young if it was female. The rabbit was healthy and male [though Pandora did not care for gender but all the same]; she thanked the rabbit for being her sacrifice and carried it in a cage to the temple.

Pandora went to the temple of her home city of Themyscira; the Priestess lived in a Sacred Grove that grew within the temple and the holy woman was expecting her visit.

"I welcome the Blade of Nemesis; present your offering and ask your question," said the High Priestess from her throne of stone in the center of the Sacred Grove.

Pandora set the cage with the rabbit down as she bowed in respect and she said: "Oracle; I have come seeking answers, I need to know the meaning of my dreams!"

Then Pandora proceed to explain her dream in detail and when she finished the High Priestess left her rock throne; an acolyte came and removed the rabbit from its cage, the Priestess-in-training brought the rabbit to a stone alter next to a fire pit where the High Priestess stood. Pandora watched the Priestess unsheathed a sacrificial dagger from her belt and she cleanly slit the rabbit's throat; the blood of the sacrificed rabbit was collected in a wooden bowl and certain herbs were mixed in.

Pandora watched the Oracle drink some of the mixture and poured the rest into the fire; she breathed in the fumes and fell into a deep trance. Suddenly the woman began to dance; drumbeats echoed through the Sacred Grove as the Priestess swayed, moved and spun.

The Oracle fell to ground as the drums ended and she lay on the ground unmoving as if she had stopped breathing. Pandora felt a slight worry and she almost gasped in shock when the High Priestess rose up onto her knees before her; the woman opened her eyes and looked at the Amazon Princess, her eyes had gone completely white.

"_Daughter of the Elder Queen; these dreams that you dream are of a past life_," said the Oracle in a ghostly voice. "_They are memories of your first reincarnation and you fell to madness that led you to Chaos, you woken as a corrupt Sailor Scout and you murdered other Sailor Scouts who did not join you._

_You stole their Star Seeds, the cores of their souls, and you destroyed their home planets in your madness. But during the final battle; Chaos killed you but Chaos was also defeated and you were reborn again, soon your true awakening will come and you will find your destiny!_"

First reincarnationâ€|

Sailor Scoutâ€|

Star Seedsâ€|

Chaosâ€|

What does this mean?

"Is this Lord Apollo or any other God who speaks?" Pandora asked and the Oracle in trance replied: "_Noâ€|This is the Voice of the Cauldron who speaks; those who fight to protect My Creation and all Life are My Champions. But soon a great evil will come and the war will start again; be warned and take heed!_"

* * *

Pandora was still left with more unanswered questions and she sought council with her patron Goddess Nemesis.

"Reincarnation is real;" said Nemesis matter of fact, "The souls here on Hyrule are still young. For some this is their first life and for others; they have just started the Cycle of Rebirth!"

"But what did the Voice of the Cauldron mean that this is not my first rebirth?" Pandora asked and her Goddess replied: "Your soul is old and you have a calling; but it is not my place to tell you everything. Only that; you were forced into your first rebirth too soon and you did a lot of horrible things, but you have a chance to set things right and you can make amends!"

Pandora started to understand; she felt guilty about her first rebirth, sad about the lives that were taken and ashamed that it was by her hands back then. The Sisterhood and her family found out, and, they wished her luck; but Jade Raven also found out and tried to cause trouble.

It was during the Festival of Bacchus that Jade confronted Pandora; it was no mere secret that Jade got jealous of anyone who is considered to be more beautiful than her. But Jade Raven also wanted respect and admiration; Pandora could tell the fellow Amazon Princess was jealous of her that she held what her fellow Amazon sister wanted, Pandora can sense that something was off with Jade.

Jade said to Pandora with a jeer: "You have blood on your hands, Pandora, how can you call yourself a Goddess Blade?!"

"That was during my first life and I am making atonement; Nemesis knows and She keeps me as Her Blade," Pandora said in come back and she also found herself adding: "Yet for a dark soul like yourself, Jade Raven, you will destroy yourself one day!"

Before Pandora Nemesis knew it; Jade attacked her and Pandora sensed the unnatural Power that the other held, Pandora Called on Nemesis for aide and her patron Goddess answered. The more experienced Goddess Blades never tell the initiates what the feeling is like when one merges with a patron Goddess.

When Nemesis and Pandora merged for the first time; it was incredible for it felt like she became her Goddess, but in truth Pandora was still herself. It felt like that her Goddess and Pandora had merged into one; Pandora can feel the Lady's conscious and Power become a part of her.

That was when Pandora discovered Jade Raven's secret, Jade was no longer a person; her soul had become twisted and deformed. Pandora heard Nemesis in her mind say: *_She is an Unholy Immortal; _she is an outcast and has chosen to walk the path to oblivion!_*

"Why are you a Unholy Immortal, Jade Raven?" Pandora said and the other laughed cruelly; Jade said this: "I intend to become THE Goddess of Hyrule; I will grow strong and I will kill all the Gods of Hyrule, and, drink Their Divine Blood and eat Their flesh!"

Jade had condemned herself by those words; she was forever banished as well as driven from the Amazon Nation, no Amazon tribe or Amazon will give her shelter or a place beside the fire.

A few years later; Pandora turned twenty and the night after her birthday, she had another dream but it was more of a callingâ€|

[Dream]

_*Come to Sagittarius Zero Starâ€|come to the Cauldronâ€|it is time to wake,* said a mysterious voice._

Pandora woke in a trance and she was still conscious of herself and her surroundings; she dressed in a white and gold mid-drift bodice, white knee-length skirt slit for leg movement and leather gold knee-high boots. Pandora sheathed her twin sai blades into her boots and grabbed the satchel that has her staff, twisted in two, she left her home and suddenly she was gone.

A few years had passed since Jade's banishment and being driven from the Amazon Nation; she did not really need them. To her the Amazons are a dying race and they will fadeâ€|_who will remember them in the future?_ Was Jade's cruel thoughts as she started living in a cave like her late Master and while she slept; she had a dark dream that was a callingâ€|

[Dream]

_ *Come to Sagittarius Zero Starâ€¦find the Seal of the Voidâ€¦It is time for your true purpose,* called a dark voice._

Jade woke in trance but aware of what was happening and got dress in a red and black mid-drift bodice, black knee-length skirt slit for leg movement and red leather knee-high boots. She also gathered her daggers; she soon had daggers sheathed in her boots, arm-bracers, hips, across her chest and hidden anywhere else on her body.

Soon she left her forest cave and she was gone from Hyruleâ€¦

The next thing Pandora Nemesis remembered was waking up on the ground in a strange place and she was lying at the foot of some stairs that led to a strange castle [she also realized that she was no longer on Hyrule]. Pandora knew that she was not alone and someone was also here; but she soon heard the mysterious voice from her dream echo in her mind: *_Come to the Cauldron!_*

Pandora walked up the wide castle stairs and entered the castle; she found herself within a throne room-like chamber and at the far end was a wide stage-like staircase that led into a hallway. She went up the stairs and down the hallway; at the end of the hall was a wide open doorway.

She walked through the open doorway and found herself within a cavernous mountain chamber and above an opening to space. Pandora found herself on a wide stone ledge-like walkway; she discovered that the ledge walkway went and stopped over the edge of a crater-like cauldron.

Pandora walked across to the end of the walkway and looked down into the cauldron; she saw molten energy swirling inside and felt great limitless raw _POWER_.

"The Cauldron;" said Pandora in awe and reverence at what she was seeing as well as feeling. Suddenly a ball of light appeared before her and took the form of an ethereal fairy-like young woman with starlight hair and eyes like molten energy of The Cauldron.

"I am, the Lady of the Cauldron," said the Lady to Pandora her voice was musical, "I have witnessed the birth of Star Seeds and have witnessed their return at their end; I have been here at the Universe's birth and will be here at the Universe's end!"

"I was called here, Great Lady, and I do not know why;" Pandora said as she gazed in awe at the Lady of the Cauldron.

The Lady smiled at Pandora with kindness and compassion as She floated over to the Amazon Princess; She said: "I sensed the Power of your Star Seed; it is a sleeping Sailor Crystal and you are a sleeping Senshi. You were called to the Cauldron for you are to be awoken; I fear that the Balance of the Universe is about to be threatened!"

Suddenly there came a howl behind Pandora and she turned to see three wolves; one was white with gold eyes, the second was ebony black with dusk red eyes and the third was also white with dusk blue eyes. Each wolf bore an upturn crescent moon on its brow; gold, silver and white gold.

At the same time; a spirit of a woman appeared before Pandora, the woman stood at 4'11" and she was dressed in a long flowing sleeveless strapless white dress bearing a gold upturn crescent moon at the center of the neckline between her bosoms. The woman had long flowing lavender white hair that was tied up into two circular twin buns on either side of her head with flowing pony tails streaming from the buns to hang by the ankles or hem of the dress; she had grayish silver eyes and her skin was white and fine like silver with a moonlight glow, upon her brow was a gold upturn crescent moon.

Pandora turned to the three wolves that sat down and bowed to the woman; the Lady of the Cauldron said: "Prince Aaronâ€|Lady Yangâ€|Lord Yin; you have awakened!"

"We sensed the familiar Power;" said the white wolf with the gold eyes, he wore a sterling gold collar that bore a pure amber shaped like a wolf's paw.

Pandora was in slight shock when she heard a wolf talk; she heard a soft chuckle and turned towards the ghostly woman who said simply: "It is time to awake, my Daughter!"

"Princess;" chorused the three wolves as a small ball of energy float up from the Cauldron; once it was floating before Pandora, the ball of energy became a pure sapphire crystal that glowed like a galaxy.

"The Sapphire Crystalâ€|I thought it was lost forever," said the Lady of the Cauldron and the ghostly woman explained: "The Sapphire Crystal was waiting for its Keeper and for the right time to return to her!"

"Remember, Princess, it is time to wake and fulfill your destiny;" said the white wolf Aaron as his crescent moon mark and the other crescent moon marks of Yin and Yang began to glow.

A beam of light shot forth from the Sapphire Crystal and it touched Pandora's brow; a white upturn crescent moon appeared as memories from long ago was unlocked.

_ Queen Serenity the 13__th__ of the Moon and High Queen of the Silver Alliance appeared before the Cathedral of the Cauldron, where she was greeted by a nine-year-old Sailor Scout garbed in sterling gold and white, and with the young Senshi was a white wolf._

_ "Welcome to Sagittarius Zero Star, my Queenâ€|Mother!" chorused young Sailor Galaxia and Aaron as she knelt before her adopted mother and the wolf bowed to his monarch._

_ The Moon Queen smiled as she said: "My Daughter, Ismene, it is good to see you and your Guardian Adviser Aaron; everyone misses you and I have missed you!"_

_ "I miss everyone too and I will be visiting soon after my training is done, Motherâ€|But what brings you here to visit?" inquired Princess Ismene as mother and daughter embrace; Aaron gave a wolfish smile as he watched his charge._

_ Serenity replied as they entered the Cathedral: "I have come to make a request to the Lady of the Cauldron and it pertains to you!"_

_ This answer perked Aaron and Galaxia's interest as they came out onto the Cauldron._

_ "You are bringing the Seven Keepers of Power together," said the Lady once She has appeared before the Moon Queen and Princess._

_ Serenity nodded as she explained: "Trouble is brewing and I want to ensure that everyone is protected; the Alliance Council agreed to form two different teams of seven Sailor Scouts. Not only that but my young daughter Selena is Heir to the Moon Throne; her older twin sister Eternity Serenity is Queen of her own planet but she is also still Princess of the Moon and the Council wants both girls to be protected by the best!"_

_ "Princess Selena is the Seventh Keeper; Princess Ismene, her sisters along with the Princess of the Earth and Sun are her equals. Princess Eternity Serenity is a Planetary Queen by birth but she is still next in line to the Moon Throne though her younger sister is the Heir," said the Cauldron's Lady while Princess Ismene and Aaron was silent as they listened._

_ The Moon Queen added: "All of the Planetary Rulers and I are equal in Power; our Heirs are the same, but the Seven Keepers are very different. Not only is that but Selena is far more powerful than Eternity Serenityâ€|"_

_ "Because Selena is the incarnated Goddess of the Moon," finished the Lady with a nod of understanding and She asked: "Who will protect Eternity Serenity?"_

_ "Princess Athena of Mercury and Princess Nike of Jupiter are the only two Inners who will protect Eternity along with Princess

Persephone of Saturn, Princess Thetis of Neptune and Prince Ceyx of Uranus. Prince Ceyx has inherited his twin sister's powers after her death and has taken up the mantle of Sailor Uranus; he is the only male who goes through a transformation into becoming female when he becomes a Sailor Scout but he is also still a Planetary Knight._

_ Lastly Princess Rhea of Pluto will be splitting her duties between guarding the Doors of Time and protecting Eternity," replied Serenity as she bowed her head in respect and she added: "I hope that my four adopted Daughters would not mind protecting Selena, and, I will be asking King Hyperion of the Sun and Goddess Queen Danu of Earth if Princesses Apolla and Gaia would also become protectors too!"_

_ The Lady of the Cauldron turned to Sailor Galaxia and She asked: "What are your thoughts, Princess Ismene, would you like to be Protector of your sister Selena? I know you have been lonely during training and it may help!"_

_ "I would be honored to protect my baby sister and it would be nice to have help," said Ismene with a smile that was mirrored by her adviser._

>3

Pandora Nemesis now remembered who she was and still is. She is Princess Ismene; first adopted Daughter of Queen Serenity the 13th, Princess of the Moon, Keeper of the Sapphire Crystal and Guardian of the Cauldron. Ismene's white upturn crescent moon glowed bright on her brow as her Amazon clothes took a sleeveless strapless form-fitting flowing white dress.

The bodice was empire and the neckline was v-shaped that dipped slightly between the breasts, solid gold swirls decorate the neckline and tiny solid gold pearls decorate the bodice. A solid gold pearl and feather belt wrapped around her hips as the dress skirts flowed down in a wave and pooled slightly around her feet.

Pandora felt solid gold bands wrapped around her upper arms and flowing white sleeves flowed down; stopping at her wrists and flowing cuffs edged with gold hang down slightly brushing the floor. Her half gold blond and half fiery red hair flowed down her back, her skin which was slightly tan now had a very light bronze glow and the Sapphire Crystal returned to its glowing floating state.

"Ismene;" Aaron said as he took a step forward with a cock of his head.

Ismene turned to her Guardian Adviser as she went to her knees and held her arms out; that was all that the Wolf Prince needed as he bounded over and was embraced by his charge. Yin and Yang watched their partner before going over, and they were greeted by the Princess affectionately.

"Princess Ismene; you have awakened at last," said the Lady of the Cauldron with a bright smile.

Ismene stood as she did a curtsy bow and she said: "I am happy to be awake and I wish to apologize for what I did during my first rebirth!"

"No need to apologize, Ismene, you are making atonement though it was not truly your fault;" said the Cauldron's Lady with a slight wave of her hand.

Aaron looked at his charge and he said: "That reminds me; it is time you had the Galaxy Brooch back!"

Aaron walked part way from the Cauldron with his back turned; he gave a howl as he began to glow like moonlight and did a back-flip. An orb of light formed and floated to Ismene; the orb became a sterling gold palm-size galaxy-shaped brooch and decorated with tiny sapphire crystals, a six-point star made of six symbols also decorates the brooch; each symbol holds a jewel.

In the center of the star is a white tri-moon; two white crescent moons flanking a hole [that is the full moon]. The first three symbols create an upright triangle; the top point is a black upturn crescent moon holding a black crystal, left bottom point is a white gold upturn crescent moon holding a white pearl encircled by a belt of silver stars and the bottom right point is the gold symbol of Venus holding a topaz.

The last three symbols create an upside down triangle; the bottom top point is a silver white upturn crescent moon holding a silvery blue crystal, right upper point is the amber gold symbol of Earth holding an emerald and the left upper point is the deep gold symbol of the Sun holding a reddish gold diamond. Ismene caught the Galaxy Brooch and held it in both hands as the Sapphire Crystal floated down as it settled in the center of the tri-moon.

Then the Brooch along with the symbols and jewels began to glow as well as pulse with light. Suddenly Ismene felt something very wrong as a slight tremor shook the place; even the Cauldron shuddered and seemed to release a sound like a groan as if in pain.

"I felt a presence of a corrupt Star Seed; I fear that this dark soul has found the Seal of the Void," said the Cauldron's Lady with a frightful shudder.

Ismene was slightly confused until a fuzzy memory came and realization finally hit her; she ran from the Cauldron's chamber as fast as she can with the Wolves of the Moon right behind her.

Dress skirts hitched up above her knees as her bare feet slapped the floor and her Galaxy Brooch glowed pinned to her chest of the dress. Ismene ran down the side hallway that she found in the main hallway, down the stairs and out of the Cathedral where before her was barren land but in the distance was a small hill.

On top of that small hill was a raised stone seal and it was encircled by nine stone statues, she saw standing within the circle was Jade Raven and a mysterious man.

Jade Raven came out of trance and found herself in a strange place; she spotted Pandora Nemesis twelve man standing from her. She stood before a strange castle and was heading in; Jade followed her through the throne room-like chamber, up stage-like stairs and down a hallway.

She stopped as Pandora headed through an open doorway and Jade heard the dark voice from her dream in her mind: *_Find the Seal of the Void!_*

Jade looked to her right and off to the right side of the hall was another hallway; she went down the other hallway. She walked down the side hallway, down some stairs and out of the Cathedral; before Jade Raven the land was barren, she saw a small hill that was a distance and she walked towards it.

On top of that hill; Jade saw a raised stone seal encircled by nine stone statues, out of curiosity she went up the hill. She noticed that the statues were of eight men and one woman; soon Jade was standing before the stone seal, she saw an engraved symbol of an entwined A V.

"My beautiful Daughter;" Jade heard a dark male voice say beside her, she looked to her left and saw a man garbed in flowing dark hooded robes appeared next to Jade.

His entire head was hidden within the darkness of the hood as Jade asked curiously: "Who are you?"

"I am your birth-father and I was your father in your first life; my real name is Murdock of Pluto but I am called Wiseman and I am also known as Death Phantom," he answered.

Jade started to say: "My first lifeâ€¦"

She watched her birth-father, Wiseman reach into the wide flowing sleeves of his robes and brought out a gold chain crown; it was decorated with precious blood red jewels and black pearls, bearing gold entwined A V symbol that was holding a deep black stone.

"This crown is yours; take and wear it for it is time for your awakening," said Wiseman as he held it out to Jade and she took it.

Jade placed the crown on her brow; making sure that the A V symbol hung in the middle of her forehead, the gold chain was cold to the touch but suddenly the crown began to glow and became warm as it seems like a seal had been shattered as memories flooded her

mindâ€|

**Jade Raven's Past Life****

_ Wiseman entered the room to see his only beautiful daughter standing before a full length mirror; a young woman of twenty was tied to a table with her throat slit. The same with another young woman; but she was naked and her throat was also slit, both women had their youths drained and it left them looking like old women._

_ An elegant dress stained with blood laid crumpled on the floor; Wiseman's daughter was dressed in a simple but pretty low cut dress and beside her was a small table holding a goblet of blood._

_ "Lady Slipper; we must be on our way for Lord Abraxas has gathered enough Followers and the rest of the people of this small planet will feed them," said Wiseman as he watched Lady Slipper pick up the goblet and drained the cup of the blood._

_ Upon her brow was the Crown of the Void that marked her as High Priestess of the Void, Slipper tossed the goblet away as she said: "I am coming, Father, I needed to replenish myself after performing the Void Ritual; these two women were known to be the greatest beauties of this village. Of course my Priestess clothes got ruined by the first and I had to take the other's dress; I don't know why they were considered great beauties as they dressed too simply!"_

_ They left the grand house; outside there was havoc as the Followers of the Void gathered prisoners and herded them like cattle. Those who weren't taken were instantly eaten alive by the new Void Followers; Lady Slipper licked her lips at the blood that was flowing and gathered energy from the dead._

_ "Another planet falls to the Void; soon Lord Abraxas will rule the Universe," said Slipper with a grand laugh._

_ Wiseman nodded in agreement as he said: "Lord Abraxas has conquered this small galaxy; soon the Void will engulf all and this will all be apart of the Void. In order for Lord Abraxas to rule the Universe; He needs the Seven Gems of Power!"_

_ "He will have those Gems for no one can deny that it is His right to rule all," said Lady Slipper with a disdain sniff._

_ Wiseman explained: "It has become known that seven Princesses have been chosen to be the Keepers by the Gems. The Seven Gems of Power have been protected within the Milky Way Galaxy by the descendants of the Moon Goddess Selene!"_

_ "Those Gems of Power do not have any consciousness for those crystals are just fragments of the Cauldron. These Princesses can never truly control that Power; they will give Lord Abraxas the Seven Gems and bow to Him as their Lord," said Slipper with a nod in agreement to herself._

_ Wiseman chuckled as he said: "I suppose, my dear Daughter that you are going to pursue to become Lord Abraxas' wife and Queen!"_

_ "Of course, Father, am I not the High Priestess of the Void? Do I not deserve to rule by my Lord Master's side? I will not let anything or anyone stand in my way of what is rightfully mine," said Lady Slipper as she ignored someone's cry for help and their running footsteps._

_ Wiseman said feeling proud: "I taught you well, Lady Slipper, you make me proud as your father!"_

>3

Jade Raven blinked her eyes as her clothes changed into a clingy flowing reddish purple strapless dress that brushed the ground; the neckline was low cut with a long split between her breasts, the open split went all the way down to show her belly button and the rest of the dress skirt flowed down with a slit to mid-hip. The Crown of the Void had stopped glowing as its Mistress turned to Wiseman with a smile; when they heard a voice behind them from down the hill call up: "Jade Raven!"

She turned and looked down to see her fellow Amazon sister and considered rival along with three wolves; when she saw the white upturn crescent moon on the brow, Jade said: "Jade Raven is no more! Lady Slipper, Daughter of the Wiseman and High Priestess of the Void, has awoken!"

The spirit of Queen Serenity the 13th and the Lady of the Cauldron appeared next to Ismene; both gasped in shock when they saw Lady Slipper and Wiseman.

"So you too have been reborn," said the Moon Queen and Wiseman replied with a dark chuckle: "I was making sure that there was a back up plan in case my designs get threatened!"

"You are trying to give Chaos a human form;" said the Cauldron's Lady and Wiseman gave a dark cackle as he said: "Chaos will soon be born; She has already planted Herself into the womb of her future mother and She waits for Her surrogate father's blood to help Her form into a human!"

The three Wolves of the Moon flanked Ismene as Aaron said: "Not unless the Heirs of Sol and the Keepers of Power are awakened first!"

Lady Slipper said with a slight sneer: "They won't be the same in Power!"

"The Void and Abraxas won't rule the Universe; it took the powers of the Seven Gems of Power to seal Them away and we will do it again," Ismene cried as she clutched her Galaxy Brooch on her chest.

Slipper gave a slight cackle as she said: "My Lord Abraxas will rule the Universe and I will rule by His side as Queen!"

"Funny; if I remember correctly! Abraxas wants to marry our charges, the Seven Keepers of Power and make Princess Selena His High Queen;"

said Yang with a cock of her head as her twin brother Yin snorted in contempt.

It was no big secret that Lady Slipper is in love with her Master; but Abraxas, Ismene remembered, always had His eyes on not only her sisters, friends and herâ€|but she knows He always lusted for her baby sister Selena.

Lady Slipper scowled as she blushed slightly; she wanted to get her hands on the three Wolves of the Moon and skin them alive. Until she heard her father telepathically say: *_you can have your revenge later, my Daughter, now is not the time!_*

Slipper glanced at the Seal and the statues as she remembered that she had a duty to do; she looked down at Ismene and the Guardian Wolves, and she gave an evil smirk.

"I would love to stay and chat moreâ€|but I have a task to do. Oh and mind the fangs and claws," Lady Slipper said and Wiseman added: "Yes; I have plans to make and fulfill with my beautiful Daughter after our Master has been set free!"

With that and before their eyesâ€|Lady Slipper, Wiseman, the statues and Seal vanished in a flash of light. The Moon Queen, the Cauldron's Lady, Ismene and the Wolves were momentarily blinded.

Once they were able to see again; on the hill were about twenty Youmas, and, they did indeed have fangs and claws.

"Princess Ismene; quickly transformâ€|Sapphire Crystal Power, Transform;" said Aaron as he, Yin and Yang took up defensive positions in front as they prepared to fight.

The Youmas made a move to attack; one of the Youmas tried to slice Ismene; but she quickly dodged as she raised her right hand and cried: "***Sapphire Crystal Power, Transform!***"

The Galaxy Brooch that was pinned to her chest; released a blinding light that blinded the Youmas and Ismene was encased within that light.

Within the light was a prism of sapphire blue; the Brooch was glowing bright on Ismene's chest as her clothes faded and her naked body was covered within the sapphire blue prism. The Galaxy Brooch that remained on her chest flashed and the prism turned into a form fitting flowing Greco-Roman white dress; the long flowing skirt was slit to mid-thigh for leg movement and the dress bore the Brooch.

She crossed her hands before her face as tiny white flames danced onto Ismene's fingernails and became sapphire blue nail polish; while the glowing brooch released glowing white feathers that flew from the tiny sapphire crystals and began to encircle her. Some of the glowing feathers entered the Galaxy Brooch; the Brooch released a burst of flaming white fire that wrapped around Ismene's torso and hips.

The white fire crystallized and with a burst became a sterling gold armor with pleated shoulder pads and a pleated short mini skirt that hung over the dress skirt, a white sailor collar was also on the armor edged with tiny sapphire crystals and tied with a white bow held by the Galaxy Brooch. Glowing white feathers wrapped around Ismene's hips and in a flash of light became a gold feather belt with a white upturn crescent moon for a belt buckle.

She crossed her arms before her chest as more glowing feathers wrapped around her arms from her wrists to below her elbows and in another flash of light became sterling gold armguards. Glowing white feathers became white fire that wrapped around her feet and legs below the knees, the fire crystallize and with a burst became knee-high sapphire crystal boots.

Sterling gold twin sai blades with galaxy designs on the blades; the hilts were back to back sterling gold and white crescent moons were formed from a cyclone of white fire, they became sheathed in the sapphire crystal boots. Tiny glowing white feathers wrapped around Ismene's throat and became a white pearl choker bearing a sapphire crystal-shaped upturn crescent moon.

Glowing feathers became white fire and braided into Ismene's half golden blond and half fiery red hair, and, became strings of white pearls braided in her hair as sapphire crystal earrings flashed onto her ears. An orb [the size of a face] struck Ismene's face; mascara and kohl appeared on her eyes along with white eye shadow and white lip-gloss on her lips, she opened her eyes to show them glowing sapphire blue as if galaxies flew within.

The white upturn crescent moon on her forehead faded away as tiny glowing white feathers flew onto her brow and in a flash of light, became a woven sterling gold ornate v-shape tiara bearing a white upturn crescent moon encircling a sapphire crystal. Ismene blinked her eyes and they became sterling blue again; before her a cyclone of white fire became a sterling gold staff bearing a glass orb on top with a miniature galaxy glowing inside.

She took hold of the staff, spun it around and slammed the butt-end down as she struck a pose to finish her transformation. Ismene stood in a "soldier's at ease" with her left hand on her hips and Power coursed through her veins.

She felt her old Powers flowing through her veins and Ismene forgot how wonderful it felt. Being a Goddess Blade and serving her Goddess Nemesis is wonderful as well as full of honor.

But as Pandora; she never realized she was missing something until now; now as Ismene, she has found her true destiny and she will fulfill it. Ismene will continue to serve her patron Goddess and protect the Universe at the same time; but now she must deal with Lady Slipper's little petsâ€|oh yesâ€|the War of Balance will start again and this time it will be different.

Aaron felt a feeling of pride as he looked upon his charge that has been reborn; he could not help think: _I miss my girl!_ Princess Ismene was more than Aaron's mistress and charge; she was like a foster sister and he considers her pack.

The Wolf Prince looked to Yin and Yang; they looked to their Alpha and nodded. Soon the other Guardian Advisors will awaken and so will the other Heirs; they have been asleep for far too long.

The Youmas were blinded by the light show that transformed Ismene into her Senshi form; it is a sort of protection, the enemy is not only blinded but disoriented. Not to mention; the blinding light protects dignity during transformationâ€|hellooooâ€|the girl was momentarily butt-naked and the uniform is formed by the powers of the Sapphire Crystal.

"I am; Sailor Galaxia, Senshi of the Galaxy and Guardian of the Cauldron. In the name of the Galaxy and the Moon; you are space dust," announced Galaxia as she got ready to fight.

The Youmas soon began to attack; the three Wolves of the Moon entered the fray as they helped Galaxia.

"**Galaxy Cannon**â€|" Sailor Galaxia said as she felt the Power build inside; it manifested as a cannonball-like orb of white light before the glass orb of her staff as she pointed at the Youmas, "**Incinerate!**"

The Wolves got out of the way as she released the attack; they watched it fly true and it incinerated all twenty Youmas; when fine ash was left, Ismene sensed her Goddess' presence. She heard Her voice within her mind say: *_Well done, Galaxia; I knew you would find your true destiny, if you ever need me do not hesitate to Call me and I will join you in the fight!_*

"Well done, Ismene; you will do well and keep your duties balanced well," said Aaron as he joined his charge.

Yin and Yang looked at each other; Yin said: "We need to wake the others as soon as possible!"

"You must head to Earth; the others _must_ be awakened, find Eternity Serenity and Selena!" said Queen Serenity the 13th with urgency.

The Lady of the Cauldron added: "Abraxas will be freed and He will try to unseal the Void; you must stop Him, Ismene, I fear that the War will come again!"

"What about the Cauldron?" I asked and the Cauldron's Lady replied: "If I need you; I will call upon you!"

Ismene looked to the three Wolves who nodded in agreement

She gave a slight nod in return and Ismene said with a slight bow: "I will find the others and we will protect the Great Princess" "White Moon Rise!"

Then Sailor Galaxia turned into an orb of white moonlight along with the three Wolves and flew out into space followed by the spirit of the Moon Queen. Soon they reached the Milky Way Galaxy and headed towards the third planet from the Sun with a single moon orbiting around.
